ENSAfrica, Africa's largest law firm, has appointed respected employment law expert Joe Mothibi to its top-ranked employment practice in South Africa.

With over 20 years of experience, Mothibi is regarded as one of South Africa's most eminent employment law practitioners. His areas of speciality are employment litigation, as well as contentious, transactional and advisory aspects of individual, collective and general employment law.

In its recently published 2017 Global Guide, Chambers and Partners said: "Joe Mothibi is well regarded for his expertise across a broad range of labour law concerns, with noteworthy aptitude in litigation. Clients recognise that he is 'very knowledgeable and dependable' and is 'always willing to step in and assist' at any time."

Head of ENSAfrica's employment department, Brian Patterson, said: "We are thrilled that Joe has chosen to join ENSAfrica. He is undoubtedly one of the country's leading employment litigation experts and his exceptional skills complement those of our already strong employment team."

Mzi Mgudlwa, chief executive of ENSAfrica, added: "Joe's appointment is in line with our commitment to providing our clients with excellence in both offering and service, including by ensuring that their needs are best matched by the practitioners most suited to their particular requirements."

Mothibi joins the largest employment law department on the African continent, with over 50 practitioners. He will be based in ENSAfrica's Johannesburg office. The firm has over 600 practitioners in 15 offices across the continent, in Ghana, Mauritius, Namibia, Rwanda, South Africa, Tanzania and Uganda.
