

World Law Group Member Firms Honored at the 2019 Chambers Latin America Awards

Four World Law Group member firms were recognized at the 2019 Chambers Latin America Awards, which were held at the Loews Hotel, Miami Beach on Friday, November 22nd.

Arias Law, WLG member firm for Costa Rica, was honored as Law firm of the Year for both El Salvador and Nicaragua. Arias is a unique law firm in Central America, as it operates as a single firm rather than an alliance or network; and currently has seven fully integrated offices in six countries. Arias has specialized attorneys, with extensive experience over a wide range of practice areas and industries, that can unlock the regions intricacies and subtle differences in laws – making the firm truly a one-stop law firm in Central America.

Gross Brown received the honor of Law Firm of the Year for Paraguay. Gross Brown has been providing legal services in Paraguay as a top-tier full-service firm since 1944. The Firm focuses on providing comprehensive legal advice with a simple approach and a global perspective to a diverse portfolio of clients. Over several decades, Gross Brown has cultivated a team of highly trained lawyers with an advanced level of expertise in several areas of practice and is recognized for the quality and high standards of its professionals.

D'Empaire Reyna Abogados was awarded Law Firm of the Year for Venezuela. Founded in 1972 and recognized for tireless dedication to its clients, D'Empaire is one of the top-tier Venezuelan law firms. The firm offers practical and innovative solutions within a complex and challenging business environment across a broad range of practice and industry sectors.

Guyer & Regules was awarded the Uruguay Client Service Award. The firm is proud to be considered Uruguay's blue-chip firm and first choice for international and domestic legal, accounting and tax work. Such a reputation is grounded on the firm's solid team of internationally trained professionals and the largest group of the most experienced partners in the country, who have become the clients' trusted advisers through daily service excellence.

The Chambers Latin America Awards honor the work of national and international law firms across Latin America. They recognize a law firm's pre-eminence in key countries in the region. They also reflect notable achievements over the past 12 months including outstanding work, impressive strategic growth and excellence in client service.
