

Several World Law Group member firms collaborated to publish a 2019-2020 Report on Global Trade Policy

The Report provides an overview on top trade policy priorities and challenges in several WLG member jurisdictions, outlining the overall approach country-by-country on international trade and specifying concrete policy measures applied such as new tariffs, sanctions and FDI control. Finally, the authors describe how the nature of their practice has evolved over the last two years and what further challenges they foresee down the road.

Please visit www.theworldlawgroup.com/global-trade-policy to view the report and see updates as they become available.
